

Statement on Heavy Metals

In response to the content of heavy metals in the inks and overprint varnishes that Rycoline supplies, the following applies:

Rycoline does not intentionally add any heavy metals, such as hexavalent chromium, lead, mercury or cadmium.

The sum of incidental concentration levels of the four named metals does not exceed 100 parts per million in any of our sheetfed lithographic inks.